Kevin Graham

Kevin Graham (born 1970) is an American artist best known for his Star Wars and Disney art.

Kevin was born and graduated high school in Rhode Island. In 1989, Kevin moved from Rhode Island to Pennsylvania.

Kevin is 100% self-taught. His early inspirations were gleaned from every aspect of art, with Frank Frazetta, Vincent Van Gogh and early traditional animators as major influences.

As a young artist, Kevin spent his free time studying every form, medium and style of art. Out of all the different styles of art, Kevin focused mostly on animation art and aspired to one day work for Disney.

In his later years, with the boom of the Internet, Kevin started sharing his art on many social media platforms. With encouragement from many other artists and fans of his work, Kevin approached Topps Trading Card Company. He was hired by Topps and has done artwork for them featuring The Lord of the Rings, Star Wars, Indiana Jones, Heroes, Halo, MLB, NBA and many other subjects.

While working for Topps, Kevin was approached by other companies including Upper Deck, Rittenhouse, Breygent, and others. Subjects included characters from Dr. Who, Ray Harryhausen, The Wizard of Oz, Dexter, Marvel/Iron Man, Hammer Horror and DC Comics.

Kevin owns a multimedia/art design company (GrahamArt Productions) that has produced art for many big companies including freelancing for Lucasfilm and Disney from 2006 on. He has done artwork for celebrities, singers, actors, and even a former president of the United States and his wife. Kevin's artwork has been in galleries world wide including exhibits for Rankin/Bass, Hanna-Barbera, Jay Ward Tribute & Tiki Tunes to just name a few.

Kevin currently resides in Pennsylvania with his wife and 3 sons. When not spending time with his family, Kevin spends every waking hour working on his art, hoping it enriches other peoples' lives as it does his.

Fortress Publishing, Inc.

Brian Koscienski & Chris Pisano

Brian and Chris skulk the realms of south, central Pennsylvania. Brian developed a love of writing from countless hours of reading comic books and losing himself in the worlds and adventures found within their colorful pages. In tenth grade, Chris was discouraged by his English teacher from reading H.P. Lovecraft, and being a naturally disobedient youth he has been a fan ever since. They have logged many hours writing novels, stories, articles, comic books, reviews, and the occasional bawdy haiku. During their tenure as a writing duo, they even started Fortress Publishing, Inc., a micro-press publishing company. Check out their latest release, The Devil's Grasp, a fantasy/horror novel published by Sunbury Press.

Jeff Young

Jeff Young is a bookseller first and a writer second – although he wouldn't mind a reversal of fortune. He is an award winning author who has contributed to the anthologies Writers of the Future V.26, By Any Means, Best Laid Plans, Dogs of War, In an Iron Cage: The Magic of Steampunk, Clockwork Chaos, Fantastic Futures 13, Gaslight and Grimm, The Society for the Preservation of C.J. Henderson and TV Gods. Jeff's own fiction is collected in Trail of Indiscretion Special Edition 2 – Diversiforms. He is the editor for the Drunken Comic Book Monkey line for Fortress Publishing as well as the anthology TV Gods and the forthcoming follow up TV Gods – Summer Programming. He has led the Watch the Skies SF&F Discussion Group of Camp Hill and Harrisburg more than 15 years.
